

Large phone companies should continue to have regulatory review. Independent ISPs need to have a fair playing field.